Business Woman!*

Set to take place during National Women's Business Week, the Summit will feature two intense days of training, networking, business growth opportunities, personal development, professional focus, and of course.... Fun!

Whether a professional in the workplace, a business owner, or simply a woman aspiring to improve herself, you will be able to choose a customized learning track to fit your needs. One track will follow key ideas to implement and fine tune for the workplace, a second track will follow key areas of focus for business owners, and a third track will be interchangeable universal principles for any woman wanting more out of her career.

Keynote speaker, Ali Brown, the voice for women's entrepreneurial success, is dedicated to empowering women entrepreneurs and will share her story and insights with us during a special luncheon. Business owners will also have ample opportunity to feature products and services in our Trade Show. And, there will be several interactive components for attendees to partake throughout the conference.

By pulling women together from all of North Dakota, this Summit will create a diverse network for women who want to grow both personally and professionally. We know that by leveraging women's talents and resources we strengthen the individual as well as the collective. So, join us for the CTB Women's Business Summit! It will be two days of self investment that will influence a lifetime!
